MONDAY, APRIL 29, 1765.

By the KING's AUTHORITY.

THE Commiſſioners appointed by the King for the Sale of Lands in the Iſlands of Grenada, the Grenadines, St. Vincent, Dominica, and Tobago, and for adjuſting and ſettling with the French Inhabitants of St. Vincent and Dominica, the Terms and Conditions on which his Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to direct that the ſaid Inhabitants may become Britiſh Subjects, and remain in Poſſeſſion of the cleared Lands they occupied at the Time of the Surrender of the ſaid Iſlands, &c &c. being informed that ſome Miſapprehenſions and Doubts have ariſen concerning the Tenor & Meaning of the ſaid Terms, the Commiſſioners, the better to enable the ſaid Inhabitants clearly to comprehend the ſame, have directed the ſubſequent Abſtract, taken from his Majeſty's Inſtructions, to be tranſlated into French, and diſperſed in the ſaid Iſland.

Abſtract of the Terms and Conditions contained in his Majeſty's Inſtructions, relative to the French Inhabitants of the Iſlands of St Vincent and Dominica.

THE native Caribees of St. Vincent are permitted to remain undiſturbed in their Cottages and Grounds, and the French Inhabitants in that Iſland and Dominica are encouraged to continue on the Lands which they have cleared, and to enjoy their Poſſeſſions, by Virtue of Leaſes under the Crown in the following Manner, and ſubject to the following Conditions, that is to ſay: The Leſſee is to take the Oaths of Allegiance, and make and Subſcribe the Declaration of Abjuratioo; he is to hold by his Leaſe only ſuch cleared Lands, as he was at the Surrender of thoſe Iſlands, and ſtill is poſſeſſed of, excepting where his very great Conveniency makes ſome ſmall Alterations neceſſary, in which Caſe ſmall Parcels of contiguous Lands may be added and comprized therein as the Commiſſioners ſhall judge reaſonable. In Caſes where Lands were held before the late Peace by ſeveral French Proprietors jointly, ſome of whom are ſince retired from them, the ſaid Lands are to be ſevered into Parts, and Indulgence ſhewn in the Diviſion to thoſe who are contented to remain and receive their Portions. But the Lands which have been occupied by religious Societies are not included within the Meaning of theſe Proviſions, nor intituled to the ſame Favour, but are to be otherwiſe diſpoſed of. And if any French Inhabitant there happens to be, who has occupied more than Five Hundred Acres of Land, as above deſcribed, in St Vincent, or Three Hundred in Dominica, his Poſſeſſions are to be reduced to thoſe Numbers. Neither the Leaſes, or any Part of the Lands thereby demiſed, are aſſignable to any other Perſon, without a Licence firſt had from the Governor-General, and the Approbation of the Lords Commiſſioners for Trade and Plantations: And a Covenant is alſo to be inſerted in the Leaſe, that the Leſſee ſhall reſide at leaſt one Half of the Year, in the Iſland where the Lands lie. If it ſhall be found neceſſary to appropriate to public Uſes, cleared Lands in the Poſſeſſion of any French Inhabitant, he ſhall be paid for any Buildings or Improvements thereon by fair Appraiſement, and be allotted uncleared Lands in lieu of his cleared Lands ſo appropriated as abovementioned.

Under theſe Reſtrictions, and with theſe Conditions, Leaſes, to be ſigned by the Commiſſioners, and paſſed under the Seal of the Iſlands, may be granted for the Terms of fourteen, twenty-one, thirty two, or forty Years, at the Option of the Leſſees, or (if they prefer it) for fourteen Years, renewable at the Pleaſure of the Leſſees for a further Number of Years, not exceeding forty in the whole. And in Conſideration hereof, certain Fines are to be paid down and Quit-rents reſerved to the Crown, according to the Nature and Circumſtances of the Caſe. But if any French Inhabitants ſhall not be diſpoſed to occupy the Land he has already cleared, upon the Terms of the Leaſe required of him, he will be permitted to take up uncleared Lands, unincumbered with thoſe Terms, to be allotted him by the Commiſſioners, in lieu of the former, and be moreover paid for the Buildings thereon, by fair Appraiſement.

Notice is alſo hereby given, that the Commiſſioners intend to repair, with all convenient Speed, firſt to the Iſland of St. Vincent, and from thence to Dominica, in order to determine in each Iſland the ſeveral Matters which are to be ſettled with the ſaid Inhabitants, in Conformity with the above Inſtructions: And moreover, in order to facilitate and expedite ſuch Settlement, the ſaid Inhabitants are required previouſly to prepare, and have in Readineſs to be given in to the ſaid Commiſſioners on their Arrival, a full and exact Account of the following Particulars.

I The Number and Names of all white Perſons, and of all other free Perſons in each Family.

II. The Number, Names, and Ages of the able Slaves and others belonging to each Family.

III A deſcriptive Account of the cleared Lands poſſeſſed and occupied by each Family, expreſſing the Number of Quarres, or Extent which the ſame conſiſts of, what Parts thereof are under particular Culture, and with what planted; alſo a Deſcription of the Buildings and Improvements thereon.

IV The Determination of the ſaid Inhabitants with Regard to the Terms and Conditions explained in the preceding Abſtract, declaring which of the Alternatives offered they ſeverally prefer, in order to become Britiſh Subjects, and enjoy the Privileges and Advantages of that free and happy Government.

And, leſt any improper Inſinuations ſhould be uſed to alarm or prejudice the ſaid Inhabitants, it is declared, that ſuch Information is required with no other View, than to enable the Commiſſioners the more eaſily and ſpeedily to ſettle the Buſineſs that is to be concluded with them.

It may not, however be improper particularly to explain, that no Bargain or Agreement whatever can be ſuſtained, which any of the ſaid Inhabitants may have made or entered into with other Perſons, reſpecting Lands or Houſes, ſince the Time of the Surrender of the ſaid Iſlands; nor will any Allowance be granted for Improvements of any Kind, made in Conſequence of ſuch unwarrantable Proceedings. All Lands and Houſes (excepting the Town Lots granted by Governor Dalrymple, in Charlottville, in the Iſland of Dominica) which ſhall not be judged by the ſaid Commiſſioners actually to belong to French Inhabitants occupying the ſame, will be the Property of the King, and diſpoſed of according to his Majeſty's royal Inſtructions.

By Direction of the Commiſſioners,
JOHN GREG, Secretary.

WHETHER the North American Smuggling Trade is not deſtructive to the Mother Country in general, and in particular to the Britiſh Sugar Colonies, by taking off a commodity that otherwiſe would be of no uſe to our inveterate enemies the French ? And if it does not drain the Sugar Iſlands of their caſh ?

2. Whether permitting the above mentioned injurious traffic will not impede the ſettlement of the ceded iſlands, and in the end ruin thoſe already under cultivation ?

3 Whether theſe new ſettlements will not open a trade to the North American Colonies adequate to that with the French ?

4 Whether theſe northern poſſeſſions ſhould be ſupported in injury to any other Colony by a deſtructive trade, to the great benefit of our natural enemies, who are ever undermining our trade ?

5. Whether the people of North America are capable of putting their threats in execution ?

6. Whether the dilemma they were under from a few Canadians and Indians before they were aſſiſted with Britiſh troops, does not ſhew their inability ?

7. Whether the inclination they ſhew to be refractory, ſhould not induce the Government to ſaddle them with troops, which they ſhould pay ?

8. Whether the great expence the Government is at by keeping cruiſers to prevent the ſmuggling of Molaſſes, Rum and Sugar, would not be ſaved by putting down the Diſtilleries in North-America ?

9 Whether the threats of the Coloniſts muſt not induce the Government to look on the quarters from whence they come with a jealous eye, and moſt deſervedly ?

ON Sunday laſt the remains of the once proſperous, gay, beautiful and almoſt irreſiſtably engaging Miſs TERESIA CONSTANTIA PHILLIPS, were interred in the Church yard in this Town, unattended by a ſingle friend of either ſex !---While we hope no ungenerous inſult will be offered to her aſhes, we cannot forbear adding our wiſhes, that a cataſtrophe ſo ſtriking and melancholly may prove an advantageous leſſon to many of the ſurviving fair ; and convince them, however flattering appearances may be, on their firſt deviation from the paths of rectitude and honour, that no admiration will be laſting, no happineſs ſecure, which is not founded on the Baſis of Virtue.

PHILADELPHIA, Aprill 18.

On Sunday laſt the Great-Guns at our Fort were diſcovered to be all ſpiked up ; and on looking at thoſe at the Barracks, they were found to be ſerved in the ſame Manner, which occaſioned great Surpriſe and Uneaſineſs among the Inhabitants ; but as a Smith in Town has ſince owned that he made ſome of the Spikes, and informed of the Perſon for whom he made them, who is now in Cuſtody, and has been examined by the Chief Juſtice, his Intentions, or thoſe of others, it is hoped, will now ſoon be found out.

We hear that Mr. Edward Broadfield, of Kenſington, has obtained from the Royal Society in England, Fifty Pounds Sterling, being the Firſt Premium for curing of Sturgeon ; and that the Second Premium, of Twenty five Pounds Sterling, has likewiſe been obtained by ſome other Perſon in North-America.

NEW-YORK, April 15.

We hear that a ſtrange Beaſt of a moſt terrible Appearance, has lately been ſeen by ſeveral Perſons in divers parts of the Britiſh American Colonies, it ſeem'd extremely ſhy at firſt, was afraid of being ſeen and kept at a Diſtance ; but by degrees is grown bolder and makes nearer approaches. It is ſuppoſed to be the ſame Beaſt that did ſo much miſchief in the South of France, and that could by no means be driven from thence nor deſtroy'd by all the Forces of the French Provinces, till a famous Engliſh Chymiſt invented a Noſtrum the ſmell of which drove it away.

He ſeems exceeding fierce, and the aſpect of it is ſo terrible, that it is feared it will depopulate the Colonies more than the Savage Indians with which they have lately been infeſted.

NEW-PORT, April 22.

By Capt. Briggs, who arrived here laſt Tueſday from the Weſt Indies, we learn, that a Sloop, belonging to Boſton, ſailed from St. Kitts on the 25th of December laſt, for Virginia, and in Lat 34½ run foul of a Wreck, by which ſhe received conſiderable Damage, and leaked much, ſo that both Pumps could ſcarcely keep her free. After beating three Weeks on this Coaſt, her Proviſions almoſt expended, and finding it impracticable to gain her Port, bore away for the Weſt-Indies, and arrived at St. Kitts on the 15th of March, having been 80 Days at Sea, reduced to great Diſtreſs, and in the moſt imminent Danger of being loſt. Capt. Briggs can't tell either the Capt. or Veſſel's Name.

Capt. Briggs was laſt at Turks-Iſlands, for Salt, which was ſcarcely to be procured, for Want of Rain. A Veſſel there lay ready to ſail for Jamaica, with an Eſtimate of the Damages ſuſtained when the French had Poſſeſſion of thoſe Iſlands.

Capt. Moore who is arrived at New London from Antigua, took up the People belonging to the Schooner —— Capt. Bombray, of Piſcataqua, which had ſprung a Leak in her Paſſage from Antigua to Portſmouth, and Foundered. He alſo took her Rigging and what Part of her Cargo was not damaged, on board, to the Value of about 300 l. Sterling.

A Schooner belonging to Long Iſland was condemned at Antigua juſt before Capt. Moore ſailed, for not clearing at the Cuſtom-Houſe Ten Hogſheads of Salt Water, which the Capt. had taken on board for Ballaſt, and without any other Deſign.

The 20th Inſtant died here, and on Tueſday laſt were decently interr'd, the Remains of Benjamin Colman, Eſq; formerly a noted Merchant in this Town.

To the PRINTERS, ✳

IN the London papers may be found these articles of intelligence extraordinaire. ✳

"We hear 14 spick and span fire-new manufactories have been lately erected in our colonies, by which grub street will be greatly injured, besides an average loss to the British scribblers in general of half a million sterling per annum."

"We are also informed that petitions have been presented to the directors of the union society, from divers engine makers, who are likely to suffer by the prodigious increase of manufactories now established in the north British colonies," especially in the manufacture of superfine broad cloths, the said colonists for certain not having wool enough to make stockings. What those 13 other prodigious manufactories are, is not so easy to tell, nor if erected, how they would injure Britania or any of her sons. If these 14 manufactories are such as are prohibited by act of parliament, the growers ‖ of them subject themselves to the penalty of the law, and their handy works must grow down again. But the erection of even such would properly speaking be no more of an injury to Great-Britain, than to France or Spain. They might indeed be a damage to all three: But the sages of the law tell us, there is damnum absque injuria.

Whose natural right is infringed by the erection of a N. American wind-mill, or the occupation of a water-mill, on a man's own land, provided he does not flood his neighbours? If tis an offence against law, the law is strong enough to punish. To say the public is injured, is but a figure of speech at best, which few care any thing about; and is no more applicable to the Britons to the exclusion of Americans, than to the corporations of salters and fishmongers, to the exclusion of all other his Majesty's liege subjects. I really tremble with fear that the English language will be one day ingulph'd and sunk in a deluge of solecisms and other barbarisms: A colonist cannot make a button, a horse-shoe nor a hob-nail, but sons sooty ironmonger or respectable button maker of Britain shall bawl and squawl that his honors worship is most egregiously maltreated, injured, cheated and robb'd by the rascally American republicans †

Messieurs Vulcan, Mohair, and Company, will ye suffer me to ask your highnesses a sober question or two? Do your honors really believe that North-America was created for the sole emolument of your very respectable dinnerizing corporations? Is this country the property of the merchant tailors and woolen drapers? Have they, or any other high-born British mechanic, an indefeazable right to the agonies, toils and bloody sweat of the inhabitants of this land, and to the profits and produce of all their labors? Were we all created for the sake of pampering a few aldermen and their spouses? Is a city feast and a horn fair the TO PAN of the universe? If not, what injury is done a Sir-Tun-belly'd clumzycit, or his Dulcinea, by peoples making the best of a bad market, in very frigid, rigid or torrid climates? If setting up American manufactories be an injury to their high mightinesses the Broughtoneers and Bruizers in and about Bear garden or Hockly in the Hole, or any other genteel place of resort and recreation, and the damage is to be estimated by the number, instead of 14, 1400 might have been enumerated, and the damage assessed in proportion. Some British coffee-house politicians, especially those of a certain respectable society for the growing of arts sciences manufactories and husbandry, the genius of some of whose members § hath never yet risen higher than the construction of some new fangled drill plough for sowing turnip and mustard seeds, seem very desirous to have transported and handed over to them a very minute account of North-American arts sciences manufactories and methods of new-husbandry. Some think these naturalists intend to exert their influence to have all such interdicted as interfere with their favorite scheme of populating and growing of crabs & thistles, particularly in Pensacola, Caledonia Torrida, and in the regions round about it. Now to satisfy these wiseacres, be it known to all whom it most nearly concerns, that within* 12 lunar months from the date of these presents, have been dug in East and West Florida, thro' the barren sands thereof, two wells. From each of these, by the help of a lever and pully, they extract two hogsheads of water a day for cooling the parched tongues of the poor deluded wretches who, in the shape of kidnaps, or in the form of fools, have been transported to those dry and dreary plains. By James Otis Jun^r Esquire

A TRUE BRITISH AMERICAN.

‖ A new cant term in politicks, which is as applicable to a stocking weaver, as to a planter of wholesome potatoes, or baneful sugar-canes.

† See a new pamphlet, called Regulations lately made concerning the colonies &c In this the colonists are thus strangely distinguished. Those in the little torrid islands are called the opulent, aristocratical, noble West Indians. We on the continent are called barely Americans, excepting now and then the plebeian republican Americans, to whom 'tis affirmed "a numerous family is substance". This must be before the means of subsistence are cut off. § Born in America.

* But for my own part I have more charity.

✳ Supposed to be Wrote by James Otis Esqr ‖ Vide page 59. & See page 32.

"Hell's a d——d cold mull" the Orkney Dr. cry'd, Sawney flew South and found the Dr. ly'd.

Besides the above, here follows a tremendous catalogue of North-American arts manufactories and improvements. We have riddle sive, wicker, and other basket makers, plough makers & joggers, shovel makers, shipwrights, cartwrights, millwrights, wheelwrights and wheelbarrow makers. coopers, tub, kegg and can makers, engravers, turners and fiddle makers, masons and bricklayers, plaisterers and white washers, taylors or beau-makers, mantua, alias belle makers, trunnel makers and drivers in abundance, quil drivers of all kinds, dollar makers, coin clippers & gallows-makers, cork, corn and hair cutters, sowgelders and peruke makers, block and blockhead makers, cordwainers, tanners, currriers, farriers and furriers, coblers, weavers, sail, sein and tent makers, fish catchers, from a minum to a whale, fishers of men not a few. Lobster and oyster factors in great abundance, bull and bear baiters. Besides all these, we have the pleasure to hear from the county of Hampshire by undoubted authority, that a very flourishing horse and ass ‡ manufactory is there carried on, which 'tis to be feared will in time decrease the Creolian bets at New-market.

Antonio then no more the Plate shall win,
And C——l——s brain shall then weigh down a pin.

We have also too great a plenty of wh—re masters, cuckold makers, law makers, breakers & lawyers quantum sufficit. Bird and thief catchers, tea, coffee and chocolate makers and grinders, club and cudgell makers, silver & gold, black & white and copper smiths, one of which, Alexander by name, hath done me much harm, for which the Lord reward him. We have clock and watchmakers, coachmakers, undertakers and gravediggers, trunk makers, judge and justice makers, and workers in wood enough. Rat & mouse trap makers, news mongers and makers not a few. Verse makers, poetasters, fiddlers and pedlers. Hawkers, higglers, butchers & burglers. Small politicians many. Printers and stationers by the dozen. Leather jacket and breeches makers, Leather dressers and apron makers, who sometimes exhort Churchmen, conventicleers, quakers, papists, deists and atheists: Millers, cooks, gardners, chimney sweepers, milliners and seamstresses, tent stichers, and Irish stichers, painter stainers, buffoons and mimicks, doctor, lawyer and sermon makers. Manslayers, robbers & mind killers. Goldfinders and mathematical instrument makers. One of these last says he has discovered that Great-Britain is a hollow empty floating island, which gradually approximates the continent of America, and in less than one revolution of the great year will be landed on our shores. There are who think we shall meet them in their own plight half seas over, and that a mighty concussion will split and sink both in the vast profound: But these are meer conjectures. To proceed with our narration. We have tin men, pewterers, braziers, glaziers, founders, cabinet makers, scrutators & inquisitors. Glovers, sadlers, double guarded iron curb-bridle makers, dyers, lyars and horseleaches. Barbarous slate barber surgeons and political barbers. Wood sawyers, porters & potters. Shingle and clapboard makers. Fabricators of theses, hypotheses, syllogisms and dark lanthorns Creed makers, coblers, ship & tallow chandlers. Boatbuilders. soapboilers, shoplifters and potash makers. Balance and dancing masters. Fencers, fence makers, duellists. Hay, brick and stubble growers. Strawpickers, to burn the bricks on the coasts of the ocean, where wood is now become very scarce, and the colieries monopolized or kept closely shut up. Magnet makers and grinders. Halter and other collar makers. Wooden shoe makers. Windmill makers and castle builders, especially in the air. South sea and bottle bubble makers. Sword cutlers & gunsmiths. Head and nut cracker makers. Shinkickers against the pricks, skinbreakers and scratchers. Rawhead and bloody bone makers. Squalid, bugbear and hobgoblin makers; and inventors of a new constructed kind of jack a lanthorns. These last being commonly but a green scooped N American pumpion, melon, or head of an aristocratical Creolian squashbee, can never possibly interfere with the hollow or brittle ware BUZZINESS of North or South Britain: The Ignis fatuus of the North, the spit fire of the South, and the soap draggon of the East, having been long since all exhausted or ingulphed and quench'd in the great abyss of European atheism. I am no Smuggler, nor Creole, but

A TRUE BRITISH AMERICAN.

‡ A very honest and intelligent member of that county, in a certain great tho' not august assembly, enumerating the manufactures of his county, slip'd and mentioned "a great manufacture of horses."

Messieurs Edes and Gill,

Please to insert the following.

HAD the Author of the Grubstreet Piece in the Evening Post of Monday last signed Veritas, been thoro'ly acquainted with himself, and bowels, he would have signed it Virulentus; which would have been more correspondent with his true Character.—This will evidently appear from the Portrait now in Hand that will soon be exhibitted; from the outlines of which the Public may at once see from whence originated the Venom, spit twice a Year, from a Pair of Animals of the Satyr Kind, for Mischief but little inferior to that lately seen at Marvejols in Longuedoc.

LONDON, Feb. 12.

To the Printer of the Public Ledger.

The diſintereſtedneſs you ſhew, induces one of your conſtant cuſtomers to deſire you'll publiſh the within in your next paper.

1. WHETHER the North-American ſmuggling trade is not deſtructive to the mother country in general, and in particular to the Britiſh Sugar Colonies, by taking off a commodity that otherwiſe would be of no uſe to our inveterate enemies the French? And if it does not drain the Sugar Iſlands of their caſh?

2. Whether permitting the above mentioned injurious traffic will not impede the ſettlement of the ceded iſlands, and in the end ruin thoſe already under cultivation?

3. Whether theſe new ſettlements will not open a trade to the North-American Colonies adequate to that with the French?

4. Whether theſe northern poſſeſſions ſhould be ſupported in injury to any other colony by a deſtructive trade, to the great benefit of our natural enemies, who are ever undermining our trade?

5. Whether the people of North-America are capable of putting their threats of independency in execution?

6. Whether the dilemma they were under from a few Canadians and Indians before they were aſſiſted with Britiſh troops, does not ſhew their inability?

7. Whether the inclination they ſhew to be refractory, ſhould not induce the government to ſaddle them with troops, which they ſhould pay?

8. Whether the great expence the government is at by keeping cruiſers to prevent the ſmuggling of Molaſſes, Rum and Sugar, would not be ſaved by putting down the Diſtilleries in North-America?

9. Whether the threats of the coloniſts muſt not induce the government to look on the quarters from whence they come with a jealous eye, and moſt deſervedly?

Your moſt humble ſervant,

(The New York Gazette ſays, An Anſwer to theſe Queries, and the reſt of the invidious Reflections and falſe Reports and Repreſentations that lately have been made of the Colonies in the Engliſh Papers, will ſhortly be publiſhed, together with ſome Reflections upon the late Reſolves of the Houſe of Commons relating to America.)

To the PRINTER.

HA! Mr. Printer, is it come to this at laſt! And is there really nothing in all we have been lately told, of ſome great doings upon the carpet?—Portugal dreads a Spaniſh invaſion; Spain opens all Britiſh letters; the dock-yards, men of war, and magazines are ſtrictly guarded; the king's troops of horſe attendants doubled; diſpatches upon diſpatches received, and ſent off; men of war fitting out; the workmen at Portſmouth, Plymouth, and Chatham, increaſed; important ſecret machinations at Verſailles; extraordinary cabinet councils; boards of trade and treaſury at home; and all for nothing! This is ſuch a bare-faced political humbug, that——but I have done; for we are poſitively told, there is nothing at all in it; and on my conſcience, I am of opinion that, were another army of rebels at Derby, and the French actually landed in Suſſex, we ſhould be told the ſame tale. I am, Sir,

Your old correſpondent, THOMAS DIDIMUS.

Extract of a Letter from Calais.

"——Wilkes has been here ſome time in his uſual ſpirits, though it is ſaid he was firſt induced to travel this way by a panick, that he ſhould be given up by the French court. He is, however, returned to Paris, from whence he propoſed going on ſouthward for Italy. I do not find that there ever was the leaſt foundation for the report propagated among you of his intentions to write and print a paper here, to be ſent occaſionally to England. He is, however, meditating the publication of ſeveral other important undertakings. Beſides the works of Churchill, he has the materials for a new edition of Pope in great forwardneſs, in which edition I make no doubt but he will pay ſeveral compliments to the Biſhop of Glouceſter. He has alſo a plan for what he calls a large conſtitutional work; and a new hiſtory of England, from the revolution down to the preſent Anno Domini 1765."

LONDON, Feb. 12.

WE hear that hatbands and gloves are sent to all the K—'s messengers; they being to attend the Funeral of the Secretary of State's warrants, on Tuesday next.

On Saturday night a quarrel happened at the Star and Garter tavern in PallMall, between Lord Byron, and William Chaworth, Esq; a gentleman of a very considerable estate in Nottinghamshire, which terminated in a duel, wherein the latter was unfortunately run through the body. Mr. Hawkins, serjeant surgeon to his Majesty, and Mr. Adair, surgeon to the army, were immediately sent for; but notwithstanding all possible means used to save the unfortunate gentleman's life, he expired the next morning at ten o'clock, at his house in Berkley Row.---The Nottinghamshire club, it seems, is held at the said house, and both the gentlemen being of that county, a dispute arose between them concerning the game on their respective manors, which brought on the fatal event above-mentioned. Many are the reports that prevail concerning the manner of the unfortunate gentleman's death, but as we know not what foundation there may be for them, we do not choose to repeat them. Mr. Chaworth, it is said, was sensible to the last, and made his will before he died. An express was sent on monday to his mother in Nottinghamshire, to inform her of the accident. And yesterday afternooon, at four o'clock, to coroner's inquest sat on the body, and this morning, at ten, bro't in their verdict manslaughter.---The deceased was descended from the antient Chaworths of the kingdom of Irelaud: He was about 40 years of age, and by his death his estate devolves to his father's next brother, George Chaworth, Esq;

A certain N——n, concerned in an affair which is become the general Topic of conversation, has wrote it is said, to one of the great officers of state a particular detail of a late misfortune with a promise of appearing to make good the same whensoever called upon.

Yesterday morning (February 11) the remains of the unfortunate William Chaworth, Esq; was carried out of town to be interred in the burial vault of the family in Nottinghamshire. All his capital tenants, and several gentlemen of his acquaintance, have agreed to meet the body on the borders of the county, and from thence go in procession to the place of interment.

We are informed that a bill has been found against the survivor in a late duel.

They write from New-York, that there are two breweries for pale and brown beer now carried on with great briskness in that city; the former producing a malt liquor little inferior to the most admired ales imported from England; several hundred thousand bottles of it have been exported to the neighbouring islands and colonies in America, in the course of last year.

We are informed the rent rolls of certain appropriated lands in the provinces of Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New-York, holden by former grants from the crown, and which are said to be to the amount of even a princely revenue, will soon be laid before an august assembly, previous to certain important regulations now upon the carpet.

It is reported, that such numbers daily desert from the Coterie, that some imagine they will not long be able to keep up the Patriot mason-house in Albemarle-street, which, it is feared, will shortly be to lett; and it is rumoured, that the little Junto remaining will shrink into the temple of Worthies, which is preparing for their reception. Many are of opinion they will fix their residence there during the busy season, as their presence will be quite unnecessary in a certain assembly. From repeated disappointments, they are grown wise and moderate; and by being prevented from gaining any other posts, they have learnt this useful lesson, that

'The post of Honour is a private station.'

It has been observed, that death has this year (perhaps more than any one this century) been remarkable cruel to the great, the politick, the wise, the artful, the benevolent, the witty, and the ingenious, and to prove this assertion, we insert the following catalogue:

Extract of a Letter from Hamburg.

"It is said that there have been misunderstandings between certain branches of the Royal Family at Berlin that had like to have been attended with very serious and disagreable consequences. Prince Henry's——it may be prudent not to enlarge upon this matter until we are more actually informed of its circumstances, if that is ever to be the case."

The settling certain bounties on the produce of his Majesty's provinces of East and West Florida, particularly on coffee, cochineal and indigo, to be paid by the importers, we are informed, is now under consideration of the board of trade.

He seems exceeding fierce, and the aspect of it is so terrible, that it is feared it will depopulate the colonies more than the Savage Indians with which they had lately been infested.
